WELCOME

WELCOME TO THE NINTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LATIN AMERICAN AND CARIBBEAN ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION

Dear colleagues,

This year's Meeting promises to be very interesting:

More than 230 presentations are scheduled in more than 70 Contributed Sessions. Additional highlights include twelve Round Tables consisting of some of the most interesting topics in Economics and six Invited Sessions, including distinguished presentations from two Nobel Prize laureates, Lawrence Klein and Robert Lucas, as well as those of Phillipe Aghion and Ricardo Caballero.

We are dedicated to providing a favorable and pleasant environment; adequate for the discussion of the most recent topics in Economics at the most acclaimed universities around the world.

I would like to cordially thank the Referee Committee, which had the immense responsibility of evaluating some 430 submissions. I would also like to thank the Organization Committee for their diligent work through which they were able to overcome the most unexpected obstacles and to make this Meeting possible.

Welcome and enjoy Costa Rica,
