

FGV Study Shows Emergency Aid Lifted 13.1 Million Brazilians Out of Poverty

T riotimesonline.com/brazil-news/brazil/life-brazil/study-shows-emergency-aid-took-13-1-million-brazilians-out-of-poverty

Oliver Mason

August 27, 2020

The study also showed that in full pandemic the portion with per capita income above two minimum wages or family income around R$7,700, lost 5,8 million people.

By

Oliver Mason

-

August 27, 2020

RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL - The number of people with a per capita income below half the minimum wage in the country fell by 13.1 million, from year-end 2019 through July 2020 during the novel coronavirus (Covid-19) pandemic, according to a study by the Getúlio Vargas Foundation (FGV).

Coordinated by Professor Marcelo Neri, the study 'The Immediate Impact of the Covid Pandemic on the Brazilian Economic Classes' points out that this number represents a drop of . . .

To read the full NEWS and much more, Subscribe to our Premium Membership Plan. Already Subscribed? Login Here

Subscribe

Login Here

RELATED ARTICLES MORE FROM AUTHOR

The Rio Times is an English language publication dedicated to anyone interested in Brazil and Mercosur.

Beyond keeping up with national and local events, The Rio Times will also cover issues of specific interest to foreign nationals here. Our mission is to provide our readers with a broad spectrum of information and improve their understanding of Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, Brazil, and Mercosur.

Contact us: publisher@riotimesonline.com

The Rio Times

